GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENTS:
INFORMATION, INSTITUTIONS, AND INFLUENCE

EDITORS: RONALD B. MITCHELL, WILLIAM C. CLARK, DAVID W. CASH, AND FRANK ALCOCK

Table of Contents (draft of 14 August 2003)

CHAPTER 1
Information As Influence: Institutional Design And The Impact Of Global Environmental Assessments
William C. Clark, Ronald B. Mitchell, David W. Cash, and Frank Alcock

SECTION 1: BRIDGING NATIONAL BOUNDARIES

CHAPTER 2
Science Or Salience: Building An Agenda For Climate Change
Wendy E.F. Torrance

CHAPTER 3
Information As Influence In Anticipatory Governance: The Case Of Biosafety
Aarti Gupta

CHAPTER 4
Whose Experts? The Role Of Geographic Representation In Scientific Advisory Institutions
Frank Biermann

CHAPTER 5
Assessment Information In European Politics: East And West
Stacy D. VanDeveer

CHAPTER 6
Structure And Influence Of International Assessments: Lessons From Eastern Europe
Liliana Botcheva-Andonova

http://www.ksg.harvard.edu/geo
SECTION 2: BRIDGING THE BOUNDARIES OF SCALE

CHAPTER 7
From Regional To Global Information: Assessment Of Persistent Organic Pollutants (POPs)........................................................................................................................................244
Noelle Eckley

CHAPTER 8
Climate Change And Sea-Level Rise In Maine And Hawai’i: The Changing Tides Of An Issue Domain........................................................................................................................................278
Susanne C. Moser

CHAPTER 9
Trust, Respect, Patience, And Sea Surface Temperatures: Useful Climate Forecasting In Zimbabwe........................................................................................................................................325
Anthony Patt

CHAPTER 10
A Contrast Of Assessment Failure In New England And Newfoundland.....................364
Frank Alcock

CHAPTER 11
Mining Water, Drying Wells: Multi-Level Assessment And Decision Making For Water Management ........................................................................................................................................399
David W. Cash

SECTION 3: INFORMATION IN WORLD AFFAIRS

CHAPTER 12
Stock Assessments, Fisheries Science, Management Pitfalls: A Cautionary Tale............447
Oran R. Young

CHAPTER 13
Information, Strategy, And Institutions........................................................................464
Lisa L. Martin